Billing's Death Ruled Accidental

A coroner's jury at Minden brought in a verdict of accidental death in the case of Allan Billings, 29, of Haliburton who was killed July 21 when a log toppled on him from a vehicle he was about to unload.

The jury recommended that in future two men be employed at all times while loading and unloading logs; that greater care be taken with regard to chains and other equipment used in binding logs; and that remote control be used in releasing the chains, thereby reducing the hazards to the workman.

The presiding coroner was Dr. H. E. Good of Haliburton, who said Billings died from a fractured skull, part of the multiple head and chest injuries he sustained.

Wayne Emmerson, a work lift operator, said he was working in Bailey's lumber yard when Billings drove in with a load of logs.

He recalled seeing Billings walk around the far side of the truck. Then, out of the corner of his eye, he saw the uppermost log roll off.

He yelled to another workman and ran to see whether or not Billings had been hurt. He found the deceased pinned beneath the log.

Asked by a member of the jury whether or not the chains had been removed from the load, Emmerson said one of the chains was still in position.

Lorne Bailey, owner of the lumber yard, said the logs normally are held in position by two chains attached to rings on the side of the truck.

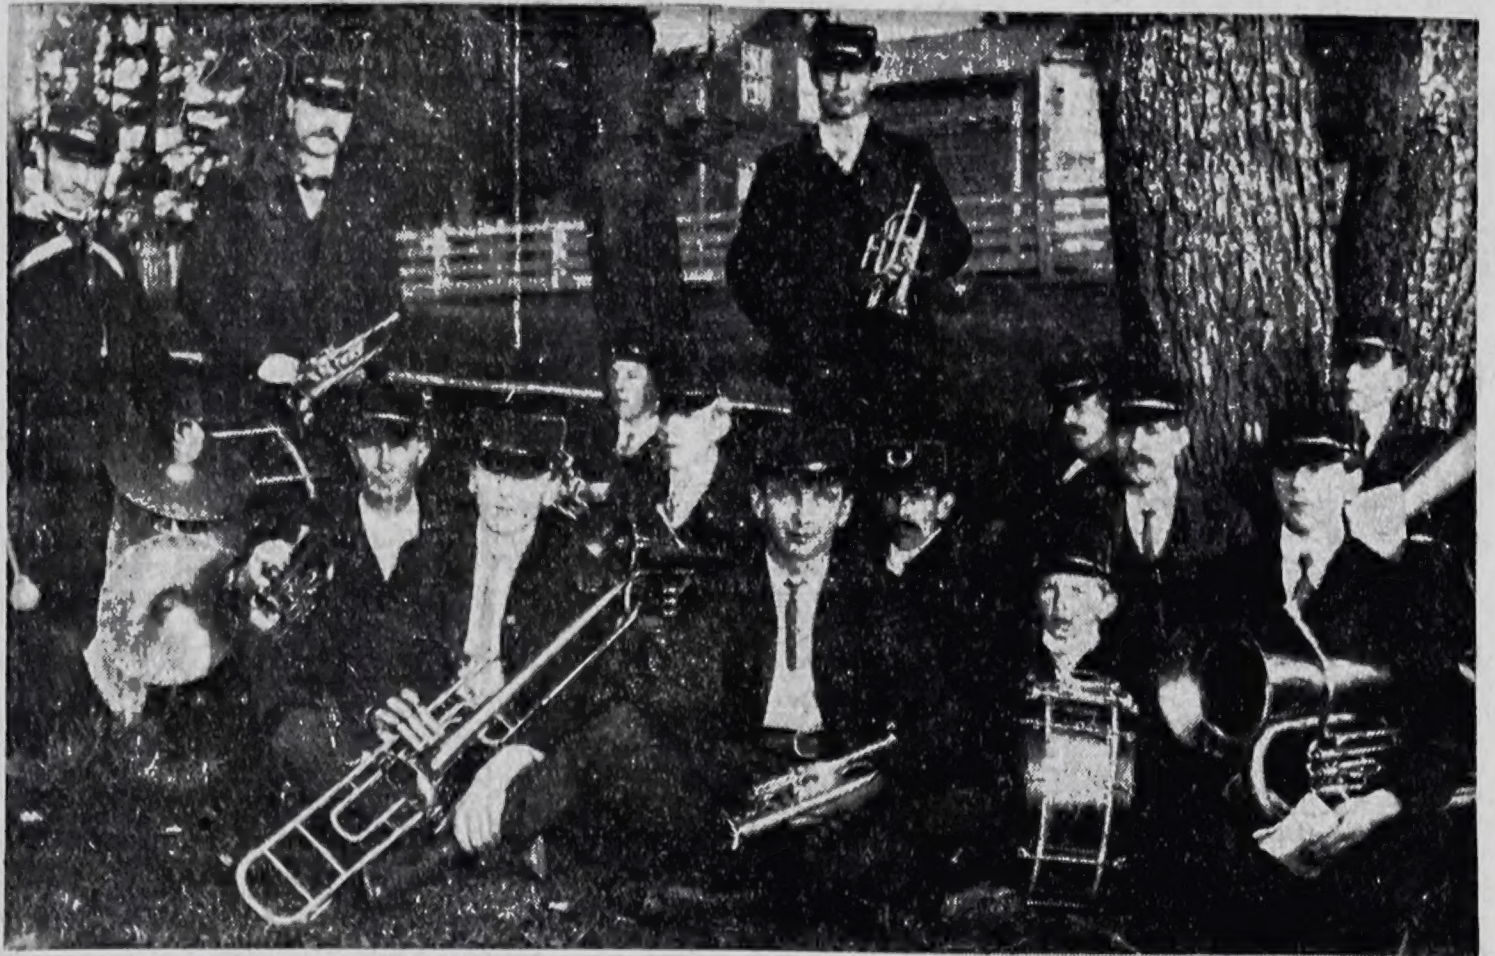

Asked by crown attorney Lorne Jordan whether the logs were likely to "roll off at any time," Bailey replied: "I guess so—if they aren't set up just so."

He added that the log which rolled off in this case seemed to have been balanced lightly on a large knot on the log just below it.

Mr. Jordan: "Would you say the fault was improper loading in the first place?"

Mr. Bailey: "In my opinion, he just didn't get his load built properly. Logs aren't like cans of peas."

He said a tripping device was now being used whereby the men could use a rope to release the chains while standing a safe distance away.—Watchman-Warder.

Weekes, Frank McIntyre, T. Jones, William Prust and Edward Austin. Frank McIntyre shown with the snare drum, is playing a Sousaphone in the Haliburton Legion Band at present—still going strong after 55 years of service.

Fire At Local Restaurant

Haliburton had a little excitement on Tuesday night last when a small fire got started at the back of the Haliburton Restaurant.

At 9 p.m. Bill Davies happened to be looking out the back door of the restaurant when he noticed a red blaze behind the building.

Apparently a box with papers had been put down in the shed behind the building. It seems a smouldering cigarette butt started the fire.

Those around at the time kept carrying water until the fire was extinguished.

Fire chief Sid Roberts and firemen Alf Burke and Buck Baker arrived on the scene and stayed until the fire was completely out.

Warders Win At CNE

Mr. Bert Warder of Lochlin, daughter Jean and son Joe we think really established quite a record at the Canadian National Exhibition last week.

Get this—they entered 65 pigeons and four fowl and came away with 63 prizes. We understand there were 2,402 entries in the pigeon class and 8,000 entries of fowl.

In view of the great number of entries, the Warders made a very creditable showing.

Heigh Ho Come To The Fair

Saturday is fair day in Minden and we trust they will be blessed with fair weather and a fine turnout. Minden fair is now the only agricultural fair left in Haliburton county. The past few years have exacted a heavy toll of casualties as far as annual autumn exhibitions are concerned, but Minden carries on.

Any form of entertainment today, in order to keep going, must ever be ready to keep a forward look and present something different each year. The Minden fair on Saturday will provide amusement for young and old and will feature a midway, merry-go-round and Peter the clown.

Those who like a little music with their entertainment will not be disappointed as the Barrie Pipe Band will be on hand to enliven the proceedings as well as a Scotch accordionist. A saddle race and horse shoe are also features.

See the advertisement on page 11 for a complete rundown on the attractions offered.

Minden Merchants Win County Championship

Judging from the large crowd attending the final game of the Haliburton county district softball league played last Sunday at Haliburton, we are of the opinion that Haliburton is ready for Sunday sports.

One of the largest crowds in the park's history was on hand to see West Guilford and Minden battle it out for the county honors.

After nine innings of play the Minden merchants emerged as the county champions when they nosed out West Guilford by the score of 10-9.

It was a hotly fought contest as the two teams had played on a previous date for the championship and were forced to stop play on account of darkness, so they brought the game to Haliburton on Sunday afternoon.

The fans were not disappointed as they saw the two clubs go right down to the wire in this game.

The Minden club got off to a big start leading at one time 9-2. Going into the last two innings Minden were going along with what seemed to be a very comfortable lead. They were leading 10-5. But the boys from Guilford weren't ready to quit

The Great I.B.&O.

Memories by Lura—1914

Good evening, ladies, gentlemen, good evening, one and all. I hope I shan't intrude too much while making this short call.

I've just stepped from the train, you see, a little while ago. A railway lately built to here—the great I.B.&O.

I left the country years ago, strange lands I meant to see. Strange places I have seen a few and strange they were to me.

But the strangest sight of all of them, I'd have you all to know,

Was when I came to Baptiste Lake on the great I.B.&O.

When first I knew this land some folks had never seen a train.

The C.P.R. was lately built and mountains rose amain; Tween us and that, and laboring teams o'er rocky steeps went slow,

But now all smoothly comes the freight on the great I.B.&O.

'Tis very different to step into a carriage neat and warm. Shut in a cosy lightsome place, from hail and snow and storm,

To traveling over the mountains, facing all the winds that blow,

We need not when the C.P.R. meets the great I.B.&O.

When we started from the junction I could not well make out

How we should get to Baptiste Lake, I almost felt a doubt; For I knew how wild the country was, my heart was in a glow

When we coasted round the rocky shore on the great I.B.&O.

I've traveled on the C.P.R. some thousand miles or more, But such a bride as spans the lake I never saw before; We might of passed them in the night, but such work I do not know

As the railway at Baptiste Lake on the great I.B.&O.

Once Bancroft was a little place, and Bird's Creek was a less,

Something I'd whisper in your ear, I wonder if you guess, We are ahead of Bancroft now, as I will shortly show; Don't tell outside we're nearer to the great I.B.&O.

Once such a thing was never dreamed of as the telephone, That came as a forerunner to give the country tone; Now children listen to the poles, as home from school they go,

They want to hear the message of the great I.B.&O.

So first here's to the government whose money comes in true,

And here's to every one of us, we've helped to bring it through,

Here's to the Tally's and the staff, they're bound to make it go,

Clear grit in spite of dismal days, are the great I.B.&O.

HALIBURTON NEWS LETTER . . .

Miss Edna McCaughan of Los Angeles and Mrs. W. Cunningham of Ottawa were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Johnston last week.

We understand that Mr. Charles Tyler is now working as a foreman in a large veneer plant which is situated at Napadogan, N.B. Mrs. Tyler and the family left on Wednesday for Toronto where they will take a plane for New Brunswick. Mr. Tyler will be studying in his spare time to obtain two subjects that will enable him to enter college preparatory to his entering the ministry of the United Church of Canada. While we hate to loose such good citizens as Mr. and Mrs. Tyler we wish them success and happiness in their new home.

After a lapse of several months building has taken a spurt in the last six weeks and at present between 40 and 50 men connected with the building trades are employed in the village and there is a possibility of two more building projects getting underway in the very near future.

At the approach to Haliburton a sign used to read "speed limit 30 miles per hour." In their spare time someone with little to do disfigured the "3" which made it "80 miles per hour." The way some of the cars were traveling on Highland St. late Friday evening last it would appear some are trying to attain that speed or exceed it. Well, as one citizen put it, let's hope they break their own necks before they break some others.

We learn that, after a brief stoppage, work has resumed once again on the new road between Loon Lake and Gooderham.

Card of Thanks
FRIENDS

The sunshine and blue skies are fine,
I'm thankful for the flowers,
For they are truly gifts divine,
In this dark world of ours,
But flowers fade and skies turn grey,
And oft the sunshine ends,
God's greatest blessing, so I say, are friends.

THE WEEKLY ROUNDUP
HALIBURTON

A stag party was held on Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Scott to honor Grant Rae of Haliburton on his forthcoming marriage to Miss Doreen Iles. Over 50 friends turned up for the occasion and a grand evening was had by all. Music for the evening was supplied by Harry Brohm, Bill Rinne, Grant Roberts and Raymond Scott.

A great sing song took place while the other fellows spent the evening at playing cards.

The presentation of a Hudson Bay blanket was made by Don Johnston, who in his short remarks, stated that although Grant was a fairly newcomer to Haliburton, he has already made a host of friends. Grant thanked all those who had given him this present and who had put on such a grand evening. A delicious lunch was served midway in the evening.

The tourist season has just about had it. We will have the odd reservation for September, but it will be hardly noticeable. In our opinion the Labor Day week end was not as large as in previous years, but this may be due to the cold weather that we had. According to a survey of local businessmen taken over the entire summer, we had one of the largest seasons in Haliburton's history.

In a recent trip to the town dump we notice it has once again been put back in shape—for the time being, at least.

Many of the people who come to Haliburton to live are astounded at the fact that we are without garbage collection. In our opinion a village of this size is deserving of garbage collection and we hope the local council will give this matter consideration.

Betty's Bakery closed its doors on Saturday last but will re-open next summer. They have had a good season in their new location and would like to thank all their friends.

The new Baptist church on Park St. is making good progress and when completed will be a building of which Haliburton can be proud.

Speaking to some of the local curlers we understand the new addition to their rink will start right away and they will have it up in plenty of time for this winter.

The Haliburton Highlands golf links tournament will get underway this Sunday.

BANK OF MONTREAL REPORTS—

Names of seven boys and six girls who have won first year Bank of Montreal Canada centennial scholarships in Ontario, have been announced by the bank. Six plan to study science at university and seven to study arts subjects.

The 13 Ontario winners are among 50 boys and girls across Canada who are to receive $750 for first-year university study, either in arts or sciences.

They are: Michael A. Church, 18, Downsview; Sarah A. Doyle, 17, London; Richard H. Elphick, 17, Toronto; Brian S. Kawasaki, 17, Toronto; Mary Krug, 17, Toronto; Linda McFarlane, 17, Burlington; James D. McGhee, 16, Thornhill; Judith Millington, 18, Willowdale; Catherine Reid, 16, Willowdale; Jean Reilly, 16, Islington; Lee S. Sims, 17, Toronto; Robert S. Thomas, 18, Leaside; and Owen Whitby, 18, Kitchener.

657 Applicants

The winning Ontario students were among 657 boys and girls in this province who applied—all of them top ranking 1960 graduates of their respective high schools.

Across Canada, 2,208 students applied, and each application had to be accompanied by the recommendation of the student's principal, so that there was considerable "pre-selection" in the schools.

Winners were decided upon within the last week by provincial selection committees composed of leading educationalists in the provinces concerned.

The 50 awards of $750 now announced are the first step in a seven year plan announced by the B of M last May to provide bank-aided university study.

Culminates in 1967

The program will culminate in 1967, the year of the centennial of Canadian confederation and the bank's 150th anniversary, when two final Canada Centennial awards will be made. One award will be in arts and one in science—each in the amount of $5,000 for study anywhere in the world.

The scheme provides for a total of 124 awards in the years 1960-67, ranging from $750 to $5,000. When the plan was announced, G. Arnold Hart, president of the B of M, said the bank hoped the scholarships would provide "a tangible and worthwhile observance of the national centennial to the future national advantage."

HALIBURTON ROTARY

The Haliburton Rotary Club held their weekly meeting at the United church on Thursday last. Six members were absent and we were honored to have with us seven guests.

In the absence of a speaker president Frank Litt read a large amount of correspondence that was on hand.

First of all we are glad to report that the Rotary club have had three 100% meetings in August and only one absent from the fourth meeting. This is a great attendance record and should be hard for any other club to equal.

A letter was read stating that the new district governor elect for 1961-62 is T. M. Palmer of North Bay.

Many of the Rotarians from the Haliburton Rotary club are going to Oshawa on September 19 to attend the "Friendship Day" which is being sponsored by the Rotary Club of Oshawa. A full day of activity has been planned and the Haliburton Rotarians are anxious to make this trip as they always receive a warm welcome at Oshawa.

Those who will be attending the district conference at Delawana Inn, Honey Harbor, on September 25, 26 and 27 are making their plans now and it looks as if the Haliburton club will send up a good representation.

On Wednesday, September 21 the local Rotarians have been invited to attend the annual golf tournament and dinners. It is going to be held at Burnell golf course in Fenelon Falls at 1 p.m.

The Rotary club are planning a big day on October 1 for the dedication of the Rotary railway engine. Plans are now underway to make this a really big event in Haliburton's history and we hope to have more on this at a later date.

This week we will welcome back Bill Kerr who has been on holidays. We have missed him being at the piano for the sing-songs. We have been without any singing for the past three meetings.

Rotary meets this Thursday night, same time and same place.

IN QUEST OF YESTERDAY

A HISTORY OF HALIBURTON

Chapter 5

THE ROMANCE OF THE RAILWAY

To the eager organizers of the proposed railway the years between 1874 and 1878 must have been interminable. Proceedings at what seemed a snail's pace the rails advanced to Fenelon Falls for construction then depended on man power abetted by oxen and horses. No actual grading commenced in the county until 1877 although surveys were conducted and the right-of-way obtained. The line reached Kinmount in 1875.

Three quarters of the way through the 19th century a train ride was a daring innovation which gave those who could boast of the experience a feeling of sophistication. To have even heard the wail of one of those old wood eating locomotive dragons was a long remembered thrill—to see one a minor miracle.

In 1960 it is difficult to unearth the names of those hardy laborers who "worked on the railroad all the live long day." Certainly a great many Haliburton residents must have been on the construction payroll. A Scotch immigrant, John Frederick McPhee of Ingoldsby who died in 1930 at the venerable age of 80, first came to the county as an employee of the Victoria Railroad in 1875. Here he met a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Harrison, Mary Jane. They were married in 1877 by the Rev. Francis Johnston and settled on a farm near the bride's home.

Another railroad builder was George Potts Sr. The Potts family originated in Kent. At Harbledown Church only a mile from the historic cathedral town of Canterbury on May 18, 1873, George Potts married Sarah Taman. Their first home in Canada was at Guelph, Ont. Here in 1877 some of the optimistic literature hailing Haliburton as an agricultural paradise, which the Canadian Land and Emigration Co. was sowing broadcast over the settled sections of Ontario, fell into their hands.

Maybe it was similar to the poster reproduced in "A Sketch of the Early Settlement and Subsequent Progress of the Town of Peterborough" shown below: "Farming Lands in Canada West at One Dollar Per Acre. Great Advantages Offered to Settlers. For Particulars Apply To C. J. Bloomfield, Secretary of the Canadian Land and Emigration Company at the Toronto Bank Building, TORONTO." It is dated at Toronto, January 2, 1867.

Hopefully the Potts family boarded at Toronto the Nipissing Narrow Gauge Railway which took a whole day to arrive at Lorneville. A second day brought them to the town of Cobocok where they took the stage to Norland. Mr. Potts used to enjoy recounting how he stood on the back of the stage and struggled to keep the family trunks and household effects anchored aboard while the rough terrain and primitive corduroy wagon roads conspired to send everything he owned rolling into the ditch. He triumphed however, and at Norland the Potts family boarded the side paddle steamer which plied the Gull River between Norland and Minden. Every time the paddle got stuck on a rock the doughty captain of the vessel climbed overboard and released it.

At Minden the stage transported the family over the final lap of their journey to Haliburton. They arrived on November 5, 1877. Immediately Mr. Potts Sr. obtained employment on the Victoria Railway. On its completion, he was appointed section foreman, a post he filled until 1913 when he retired. His wife Sarah was a skilled midwife who, in the absence of a doctor, often traveled to the homes of isolated settlers braving the perils of bad weather and the terrors of the dense bush. Thanks to her tender ministrations many an infant whose grasp on life seemed too frail to last, grew to robust manhood and lovely womanhood.

Another foreman on the Victoria Railway was Alexander MacDonald, a highland Scot with some legal training who came to Canada on the invitation of cousins who had a law firm in Montreal. His desire to see more of Canada led him to refuse a position in Quebec and travel to Guelph to meet another relative, Hugh MacDonald. Here he heard of the opportunities offered by the emigration company in their nine townships from an uncle, John Kennedy, who had some affiliation with this English firm.

Alexander MacDonald's name appears on the first tax roll of the municipality of Dysart, he settled on a farm near Gould's Crossing which remained in the family for many years. Here he brought his bride, a lassie from the lowlands of Scotland, Miss Annie Heard, a daughter of Andrew Heard who had located on the John Moon farm. Two daughters and two sons were born to the MacDonalds. When the oldest son Kenneth was only 10 years old, in 1891, the father died.

Fortunately for the family, Mrs. MacDonald was an expert tailoress who had served an apprenticeship with a Port Hope firm and worked for a Peterboro tailoring concern. In the days when ready made clothing was not yet available on the frontier, dry goods establishments which sold fabrics also employed a tailor to make up the garments to measure. Mrs. MacDonald who had professional training had no difficulty obtaining a position at Ritchie's store which was located near the present site of Curry Motors. Asking help from no one, this self reliant woman brought up her four children and sent both her daughter, May and Nellie to the model school at Minden for teachers training. After a three months course at this institution, each obtained a teaching position in Haliburton county.

Minden was the first village to be served by the Victoria railway which reached its station at "Little Ireland" (when the post office was established it was changed to Gelert) early in 1878. This created the need for a livery to run between village and station. It was operated at different times by the Hartles and Minceys, then by Arthur Stinson who purchased the business in 1904. Trains bound for Lindsay left Gelert at 6 a.m. so the stage driver picked up his Minden passengers around 4 a.m. in order to cover the eight hilly miles by train time. It was no joke to take this stage on a chilly January morning when the 20 below zero temperature froze the horses breath and iced the hair and whiskers of the driver.

Some grading was completed north of Gelert in 1877 but construction was considerably hampered by the quick sand in a sink hole encountered on the Haliburton side of Barnum's Creek. The actual steel was not laid to Haliburton village until the summer of 1878.

The above picture no doubt will bring back memories to many still in these parts. The picture was taken on the occasion of the visit of Viscount Willingdon, Governor-General of Canada to Haliburton. In the "Quest of Yesterday" of this week's issue there is mention of brass band history in the county and this picture shows the Haliburton Citizen's Band in their white uniforms ready to greet the distinguished visitor. Veterans of World War I are lined up in the background preparatory to forming a bodyguard. We may be wrong, but if memory serves us right the date was Oct. 4, 1931. It was a perfect day and the children lining the street from the station to the community park grounds presented a spectacle which one can never forget.

The initial train from Lindsay consisted of a bell funneled engine which devoured four foot longs at an astonishing rate. To satisfy its voracious appetite the crew were sometimes forced to stop frequently during the 55½ mile journey to Haliburton. The flat cars which it drew were festively decorated with balsam branches which afforded some shelter to the excited crowd of excursioners who sat spell bound on the plank seats. What a thrill that ride must have provided!

No record of the personnel who piloted that original wood burner into Haliburton seem to have been kept but the obituary notice of John Lucas Jr. indicates that he was its engineer.

To celebrate the train's arrival which was a milestone event, a ball was held in the old town hall. This building was the scene of many historic happenings and ranks as the centre of village activity. It is said that Richard Burke Sr., who came to Minden in 1861 with his parents and who settled at Allsaw in later years with his wife Hannah Archer, helped clear the land for the erection of this first town hall.

I have before me as I write a duplicate of the engraved invitation which was sent on that historic occasion. How wonderful it must have been to have "accepted with pleasure" the following:

Opening Assembly

The pleasure of the company of is requested at an assembly to be held in the Town Hall, Haliburton, on Tuesday evening, the 26th Nov., 1878, on the occasion of the opening of the Victoria Railway. Dancing to Commence at 9 p.m. Supper at 12.30 p.m.

Tickets - $1.50

COMMITTEE:

C. J. Bloomfield, C. A. Washtell, John Anderson, J. H. Barber, James Browne, J. F. Young, S. S. Pack, Major Deacon, J. A. Barron, M. Morrison. The favour of an answer is requested. A. Niven, Secretary."

The mention of dancing indicates a band. Whether it was imported or composed of local talent is not known. Just when the Haliburton Citizen's Band was formed is also vague although Mrs. Jane Fairfield (whose hobby is Minden's history) mentions that in the 1890's Ha-liburton had a very active brass band which played in the town hall or at the agricultural fair and met the train on special occasions. Many of the railroad staff have over the years been bandmen. An early bandmaster, Mr. Sid Johnston, was a baggage clerk.

The record for the longest band membership goes to a one-time snare drummer, now bass horn player, Frank McIntyre of Haliburton, who had been with the organization for 55 years. His mother, "Aunt Mary" McIntyre was a daughter of one of Maple Lake's earliest settlers, Thomas Jones Sr., who came to Maple Lake in 1857. When Frank McIntyre was 12 years old in 1905 he joined the Haliburton Citizen's Band. Since then he has served under many bandmasters including Sid Johnston, Mr. H. B. Feir, and in later years Slim Brandon of Minden who led the Haliburton County Band and George Wheeler who is the present leader of the Haliburton Legion Band whose stirring music highlights public functions like the annual Rotary parade. There is nothing like a home town band, especially when it has a bass player like Mr. McIntyre.

To ferret out the personnel of the Victoria Railway (which later became part of the Grand Trunk and eventually amalgamated with the C.N.R.) is a job for Pinkerton's detectives. Early records have been destroyed and one must depend entirely on memories. The list of station agents begins with a Mr. Scanlon who probably met the train on its initial run and includes Mr. Strike, Mr. Barker, Mr. Reid, Mr. MacDonald and Mr. Bob Johnston. Conductors remembered from yesterday number among them Dinny Gaul and George Bowhey. Probably the most popular of the early engineers were Charlie Golden, Bill Elliott and Ralph Clarke who died in 1936 in his 74th year.

Clarke was a fabulous character, a railroader all his life, he served his apprenticeship on the old Midland railway. For 30 eventful years he was an engineer on the Grand Trunk railway between Lindsay and Haliburton, Toronto and Belleville, Uxbridge and Lindsay. Ever active in Masonic circles, Ralph Clarke helped found North Entrance Lodge No. 463 and appears in the first lodge photograph taken May 24, 1906, by J. H. Stanton of Fenelon Falls who had a studio near the present location of the Bank of Mont-Stanton's studio was well patronized during the first part of the 20th century and posterity is indebted to its photographer for many excellent portraits and group pictures which help us visualize the elusive past. In addition to Ralph Clarke, the lodge picture includes Mr. Moore, Mr. Southby, Mr. McFarlain, Dinny Gaul, Rev. Spence (Anglican), John Lucas Jr., Mr. Spurr, Harry Austin, Harry McBrien (proprietor of a livery), Sid Johnson, John Anderson (general store), and Jack Laking of the Laking mills who lost his life in a canoe accident on Drag Lake in 1917.

We like to imagine that the winters for the past several years have racked up some sort of a record for severity but Mr. William Gregory of Haliburton who celebrated his 100th birthday this year says they are not to be compared with those winters of yesteryears when the thermometer sometimes reached 50 below. He particularly recalls the winter of 1905 which established a record for snowfall which on the level measured from four and a half to five feet deep. The drifts rose much higher. So deep did this snow become that no fences were visible through the whole district. Travel with horse and sleigh was out of the question. In order to be present at her scheduled wedding in the village of Haliburton, one bride had to snowshoe all the way from the Harburn settlement.

In addition to inconveniencing brides, this record snowfall halted all train traffic into Haliburton for three weeks, isolating the village from all contact with the outer world. Those who depended on the train to bring baled hay to feed their livestock faced the danger of the animals starving to death. Fortunately for the animals, John Lucas Jr. of the Grand Central Hotel also kept horses and happened to have a surplus of hay which he distributed to the hungry stock through the town.

There is a legend extant that the station agent, bored with the inactivity and despondent that the train traffic would never be resumed, ended it all by swallowing acid from the batteries at the station. He gave up too soon, for eventually a gang made up of hundreds of men succeeded in chopping and shoveling the ice and snow from the tracks and (Continued on next page) traffic was normally resumed. They buried the station agent.

Among the men from Haliburton who started railroading on the Lindsay to Haliburton run were the late William Lucas, a founder of the Haliburton branch of the Salvation Army, who was for many years a fireman on the Grand Trunk line; Clarence Sedgwick, the recipient in 1958 of a scroll and pin to commemorate 50 years of continuous service as a CNR brakeman, the late Grant McLean Yarnold (whose immediate family includes an engineer and a boiler maker in the Lindsay shops) who began his railway career as a call boy on the Grand Trunk line in 1903 and moved to Haliburton in 1912 as an engineman.

The hazards of the railroad inspired many popular songs such as "The Wreck of the Old 97," the "Engineer's Child," etc. Although it is doubtful if any of Haliburton's railroaders died in flaming wrecks, at least one died in tragic circumstances in the line of duty. William Burke in 1897 left his home in Haliburton to join the old Canadian Northern Railway at the age of 16. He became a conductor and served the railway with distinction for 33 years until, in 1930, he was fatally injured while uncoupling cars near North Bay.

At the time the Victoria Railway was built, there was much viewing with alarm and dire predictions that the road could not pay. The most pessimistic claimed that the passage of only a few years would see grass and weeds growing over the entire 55½ miles. Instead the first light rails were replaced with a 90-pound rail better adapted to bear the heavy traffic.

Until the long distance telephone lines reached Haliburton around 1921, the railway telegraph was the only link with the outer world and the medical aid which sometimes meant the difference between life and death.

One of the most exciting of those races with death in which the telegraph and train played a major part was waged for the life of William Gregory who was living with his family at Sawyer's Lake.

While Gregory was disembarking from a boat after a hunting trip, his father handed him a gun (one of the old muzzle loaders). It caught in his sleeve and accidentally discharged sending the lead ball all the way through the soft part of William's shoulder, fortunately missing the blade. Such a wound was practically a death sentence for there was no doctor stationed in Haliburton.

In desperation a relative of the wounded man ran all the way from Sawyer's Lake to Haliburton, a distance of at least seven miles. The telegraph operator relayed his plea for medical aid to Lindsay where the train, which was about to leave the station, was held until Dr. Sills of Lindsay could board it.

Although Gregory had lost enough blood to kill a weaker man, the doctor was able, thanks to the patient's excellent physical condition, to effect a cure. The story goes that Dr. Sills whittled a tool of fresh pine and with it poked a sterile silk handkerchief through the shoulder to cleanse the wound. It healed without infection and on February 17, 1960, William Gregory celebrated his 100th birthday with congratulations from many notables including Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth.

Mr. Gregory is a living testimonial to disprove the theory that boiled tea is injurious to the human constitution. A hunting companion asserts that Mr. Gregory's first act on reaching his camp is to fill his tea pot with water and toss in a handful of leaves. He boils the liquid for at least 15 minutes and from arrival to departure the tea pot is never allowed to become empty. This practice seems to have been common with most of our Haliburton woodsmen to whom strong boiled tea was the staff of life.

Although the trains which now ply between Lindsay and Haliburton are drawn by fast diesel engines, the romance of the railroad which shone so brightly in those early years still lives on. To the vacationers who board the train at Lindsay en route to a holiday in the Highlands of Haliburton, the railway is still the gateway to adventure.

In 1965 and 1966, provided a satisfactory standard of work has been maintained, these same students will each be awarded a B of M Scholarship of $3,000 per annum for further study leading to their Doctorate.

2 BANK OF MONTREAL-CANADA CENTENNIAL AWARDS OF $5,000

In 1967, to culminate this seven-year plan, the two top students—one in Arts and one in Science—will be chosen, from all 50 original participants in the plan, to receive the Bank of Montreal Canada Centennial Awards of $5,000 each for a further year of study anywhere in Canada or abroad.

Thus, to each of these two winners—if they have been participants throughout the plan—the Bank will have provided financial assistance amounting to $19,250.

Scholarship Students are chosen on merit alone—academic standing and character—by independent selection committees of faculty members of Canadian Universities. THE B of M HAS NO PART WHATEVER IN THE DECISIONS OF THE COMMITTEES.

A Losing Battle

DURING World Wars I and II we used to anxiously scan the papers for the casualty lists which often carried the names of persons we knew and in some cases loved ones who had paid the supreme sacrifice or had been wounded on the field of battle. How everyone hoped and many prayed for the glad days when these wars would end and the carnage cease.

For some time we have been engaged in another type of war—the war for safer highway travel. This is one war which we cannot look for any armistice. In fact as we scan the press and hear the viewpoints of the general public one gathers that we are engaged in a losing cause.

From time to time the weekly press receives material from different organizations concerned with highway safety. Useful hints are contained in these articles regarding safe driving and we have been glad when the opportunity occurred to print same. However, how persons who are not able to distinguish between a "stop" or "go" sign will get any benefit from these articles is beyond us.

During the past week we were in two different places and while they were miles apart the conversations taking place at both points pertained to highway accidents. Two of the parties taking part in the discussions were transport drivers. They claimed that close to 5% of those driving the highways hadn't any business on the road and said it was a wonder to them how these people had ever obtained a license in the first place. If our understanding of these conversations was correct it would appear that drivers with as many as three or four traffic violations against them are still speeding up and down our highways.

If such is the case it must be admitted that the campaign to reduce the perils of motor travel is a losing cause. Just how long this reckless segment of drivers are going to be allowed to menace the lives and limbs of those who have to travel our highways is a matter of much concern. We trust that before long the rising tide of public opinion will eliminate the careless driver off the highways—not for a month or a year, but for all time.

What is the remedy? Well suggestions we have heard are as follows: Compulsory insurance; the cancellation of licenses permanently of all those who, despite convictions, continue to flout traffic laws; and sizeable prison terms for anyone convicted of an accident who is not in possession of a motor vehicle permit.

OBITUARY

Vera Alberta Feir

Early on Sunday evening, August 28, Vera Alberta Feir quietly passed away at the Brier Bush Hospital, Stouffville, in her 67th year.

The deceased was in apparent good health until April of this year when it was discovered that she was suffering from an ailment from which she could not hope to recover. Despite the best of medical attention and loving care her condition worsened from day to day until death brought a restful release from her suffering.

The late Miss Feir was born in Cambray and was the only daughter of the late William B. Feir and Elizabeth Berkeley. She moved with her parents to Lindsay and after their demise came to reside with her brother, Hedley, and the late Mrs. Feir of Haliburton. After the death of Mrs. Feir in Stouffville she kept house for her brother there.

The funeral service was held from the O'Neill funeral chapel, Stouffville, where friends she had made during her residence there gathered with her relatives to pay their last respects.

The service was conducted by Rev. Douglas Davis, minister of Stouffville United Church of which the deceased was a faithful member.

The minister, taking as his text "she hath done what she could," paid tribute to the deceased commenting on the simple Christian life she had lived. Though she had suffered much, said Mr. Da-

The pallbearers were Carl Feir, Creighton Feir, Vernon Feir, Berkeley Feir, Bruce Babcock and Jack Brown.

Interment was made in the family plot, Riverside Cemetery, Lindsay.

INGOLDSBY

Last Thursday Mr. Willard Leathers, fishing from a wharf at Ingoldsby, had the good fortune to hook and land a bass of a size very rare hereabouts, four pounds, three ounces and 19 inches long. Mr. Art Burwood stood by with a landing net which Willard did not need to land his prize. The event was duly recorded by a photograph taken by Mrs. Burwood of Willard and his big bass, following which it was carefully measured and weighed at Burwood's store. This should help dispel the opinion of some of our summer visitors that our lake is fished out.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Crofts and family, including a new arrival, Kathryn, were recent visitors with friends and relatives here and in Toronto. They stayed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Wagg. Mrs. Eileen Crofts is suffering from a form of jaundice and consulted a doctor in Toronto during a visit there. We wish her an early recovery.

Miss Linda Wagg, who spent the summer holidays with the Grant Crofts of Hornepayne, returned with them and is taking some holidays in Toronto, staying with her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Wagg.

We regret to report that Mr. Sam McCullough, formerly of Ingoldsby, is in Sunnysbrook hospital with an undetermined illness. We wish Sam every hope of recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Burk with Mr. and Mrs. Keith Hill enjoyed a camping trip recently to Havelock Lake. The weather was with them and they report a good time.

GOODERHAM

A very pleasant social evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Blair Hanthorn on Thursday, August 25. This surprise party was in honor of the Hanthorns who are leaving for Lindsay where Mr. Hanthorn will be on the teaching staff.

Pastor E. Mintz gave a short address on the merits of a teacher who had been here for 12 years and had won the favor of a large circle of friends. On many occasions his services as a pianist was much appreciated.

Mr. Hanthorne was called on to relate some of his experiences while principal. This was very interesting. He concluded with the remarks that in coming here he had met his wife, and their two children, Louise and Chris have enjoyed their childhood on the shores of Pine Lake.

The gifts opened were principally beautiful cups and saucers although, teapot, sugar and cream and other gifts were also received. Mrs. Hanthorn on behalf of the family thanked those present.

Mr. Theo Peacock showed some colored pictures. He also recited two poems, namely "The Struggle in the Building of the L.B.&O. Railway" and "The Last Run," on March 31, 1960.

Just recently ties, rails, etc., have been demolished.

The community wishes the Hanthorns success in their new environment.

Mrs. Lorne Hunter, who has not been enjoying the best of health, is able to be around again.

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Barr were Miss Margaret Sinclair of Barrie; Mrs. Ben Bartlett of Grimsby Beach; Mr. and Mrs. G. T. McPherson of Scarboro, Mr. J. McDermott of Toronto.

Mrs. G. Hadley spent a week at Deer Lake visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harold Morgan and family of Minden who were holidaying in the Wa-Ke-Na cabin owned by Mr. and Mrs. R. Herlihey of Minden.

MAPLE LAKE

Mrs. John Morrison spent the week end with her husband at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Don McMurry in Oshawa.

This beautiful vacation area is once again to be favored by a visit from the West Toronto Salvation Army band, who hold their annual retreat on Hall's Lake, at Glenroy lodge.

Petition For Tri-Weekly Train Service

The Board of Transport Commissioners, Ottawa

We, the undersigned, wish to protest the severe curtailment of train service by the Canadian National Railways to Haliburton, Ont., and request a three day per week service, preferably Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

The above heading will be on petitions located in business places in Haliburton and other towns situated along the railway between here and Lindsay.

It would appear the railways are out to do away with branch line service wherever they can get away with it and only strong petitions by citizens and protests by councils at this time will prevent such action.

If you have not signed the petition do so at once in order that the sponsors will reach their objective of over 1,000 names.

Let's all pull together to maintain our present railway service or it will be not just a case of losing another industry but should the tracks come up it will be hard to interest any manufacturing firms to come in.

We note in this week's instalment of "In Quest of Yesterday" the following passage. "At the time the Victoria Railway was built there was much viewing with alarm and dire predictions that the road could not pay. The most pessimistic claimed that the passage of only a few years would see grass and weeds growing over the entire 55½ miles."

Now if we read the signs correctly this county is on the march and it's not backwards. Rather it's forward and the railroad, like any other business that will give service, is bound to go ahead. The citizens of this area did not listen to the prophets of doom in 1878. They struggled to get the rails laid into this country.

Are you and I to see them removed without making the strongest possible protest?
